

CipherHealth Medication Affordability & Adherence Program

Increase access to affordable medications and improve adherence for patients.

The cost of medication is an issue for many patients and can be a significant barrier to adherence. In fact, 67% of patients cite costs as the reason for not filling prescriptions. The financial hurdle can have serious consequences for health outcomes. In the US, nonadherence to prescribed treatment is thought to cause at least 100,000 preventable deaths and $100 billion in preventable medical costs per year. This underlines how essential it is to address cost-related concerns and find ways to make medications more affordable for patients.

CipherHealth's medication savings program can be offered to patients following a healthcare event, sent via CipherOutreach. Patients are connected with the best savings programs for them based on their prescribed medications, insurance and pharmacy of choice. The program can be used at over 70K pharmacies across the country, creating convenience and access to the Rx's critical to patients' recovery and long-term health.
